INTRO m.1

VERSE-1 m.9

Standing on my own without you It's not as hard as I thought it would be Living on my own without you
The air is so clear that now I can see It's not who I am that drew you to me It's what I could have been who you thought I could be

RIFF-A m.21

VERSE-2 (2x) m.29

I drove by your house for the eleventh time To see what cars were parked in the driveway
Been daydreaming a lot not getting any work done
Been thinking of you for most of the day I looked up rhymes for your name in books of poetry
But I guess those dead guys had better things to do
Been counting the drops it takes to fill a glacier
Been counting the times clouds have covered the moon.

RIFF-B m.37

VERSE-3 (2x) m.45

To the victor go most of the spoils I guess that means you're a prize to him and me
And to the loser a long time of doubting Laced with sadness and uncertainty
Even though you were never looking at me
The smile on your face still burns in my mind
And even though I'll never speak to you again
The sound of your voice is never far behind

RIFF-C m.53

VERSE-4 m.61

Dying on my own without you It's just as hard as i thought it would be
It took a month to kick in now I'm crying I'd give my right lung for you to be as sad as
me
It's not who are that drew me to you It's what you could have been what I thought you could do

RIFF-A m.73
